These lectures, plus group discussions, professional counterpart exchanges, and site visits are part of an overall professional program which will allow participants to earn 30 hours of Category I continuing medical education credit.

And our trip also offers us an opportunity to learn more about the Soviet people -- their history ... their culture ... their everyday way of life. Here, for example, are just a few of the many things we will see and do:

- Stay in Moscow -- and photograph the swirl-striped, onion pod spires of St. Basil's Cathedral

- Stay in the Silk Road cities of Bukhara and Samarkand, beloved of Alexander the Great, Tamerlane, and Marco Polo, sacked by the hordes of Genghis Khan
